French A2.
Use it in real life.

REVIEWER DRAFT · 13 OCTOBER 2026

Unit 1 of 12 is authored. This copy includes the planned A2 course map and the complete first unit with answer key, audio scripts, writing model and story word index.

For review by a fluent French speaker and TCF Canada specialist. This is not a complete A2 course or an official TCF paper.

REVIEW BRIEF

What this copy is for

This draft is for a fluent French speaker and TCF Canada reviewer. It contains the planned 12-unit A2 map and the complete source-authored first unit, including its answer key, audio scripts, writing model and story vocabulary index.

SCOPE

Only Unit 1 is authored so far. Units 2 to 12 are a curriculum plan, not completed lessons. Please assess Unit 1 as an early A2 sample and assess the roadmap for sequence and coverage. Do not treat this as a finished A2 textbook.

Please review

- French naturalness, grammar, register and gender agreement in every example, dialogue, story and model.
- Whether the explanations and sound guides are accessible to an adult beginner; sound guides are approximate and need human correction.
- Whether each task is clear, fair at early A2, and aligned with the stated TCF task without implying official material.
- Whether the 12-unit grammar order is teachable and complete for an A2 course that continues into B1.
- Canadian context and any wording that sounds region-specific or factually overconfident.

Important The examples and questions are original practice content. This is not produced or endorsed by France Éducation international and makes no score or immigration outcome promise.

Learning design and pacing

The learner is an adult beginner in Canada who often studies with ParleSprint on an iPad beside a notes app. Each unit uses a short scene, concise English support, French listening and reading, active notes, closed-note recall, speaking or writing, and a changed-context transfer attempt. A proposed review schedule begins at days 1, 3, 7, 14 and 30; the next review should move sooner when recall fails.

The A2 plan allocates 14 to 16 focused hours per unit (168 to 192 hours across twelve units). This is a planning range, not a promise or a calendar deadline. Learners move on when delayed recall and unfamiliar-context use are reliable.

The design uses spaced retrieval because second-language research supports delayed practice on average, while individual results vary. AI tutor practice is a way to create guided attempts and feedback, not a claim that this app makes every learner faster. A2 COURSE MAP

Twelve units, one progression

Each unit adds a practical communication goal and new grammar while retrieving earlier language. The capstone combines the level rather than introducing a new grammar point.

UNIT	COMMUNICATION GOAL	NEW GRAMMAR TARGET
A2-U01	A week in my life: connect the details Connect several short present-tense ideas, give a simple reason or contrast, ask someone to clarify, and write a short connected message.	g23: Connect clauses and organize a short answer: et, mais, parce que, donc, d'abord, ensuite, enfin
A2-U02	What happened this week? Describe completed everyday actions in the recent past and understand their order in a short message.	g24: Passé composé with avoir and regular -er past participles
A2-U03	Everyday events: what I did Describe completed familiar actions with several common irregular past forms and place events in a clear order.	g25: High-frequency irregular past participles: fait, pris, vu, lu, eu
A2-U04	Tell a clear story Use past-event forms to make a simple story understandable, with a background, event and outcome.	g26: Imparfait for past habits, descriptions and background; g27: Choose passé composé for completed events and imparfait for background or habit
A2-U05	Work, study and future plans Talk about near plans and simple future intentions, and understand dates and conditions in a schedule.	g28: Futur proche review and common futur simple forms for plans and predictions
A2-U06	Choose a home and describe a neighbourhood Compare two familiar places and combine information into clearer descriptions.	g29: Comparatives and superlatives for familiar choices
A2-U07	Health, appointments and getting help Explain a simple health or service problem and refer to a thing already mentioned.	g30: Relative pronouns qui, que and où to combine familiar details
A2-U08	Ask, answer and follow up at work or school Ask who receives an action, give someone information, and keep a short exchange going.	g31: Direct object pronouns le, la and les before the verb
A2-U09	Travel across the city and beyond Refer to places without repeating every place name and describe a simple trip or change.	g32: Indirect object pronouns lui and leur with common verbs; g33: Y for a previously named place with common aller/être patterns
A2-U10	Food, shopping and quantities Talk about quantities without repeating the whole noun and compare familiar choices.	g34: En for quantities with common partitive and quantity patterns
A2-U11	Solve a practical problem politely Ask someone to take a practical action politely, give a simple instruction and explain what needs to change.	g35: Affirmative and negative imperative for simple instructions; g36: Polite conditional requests with pouvoir and vouloir; build on je voudrais
A2-U12	A2 capstone: handle a changing week Understand the main point and relevant details in short connected texts, manage a routine interaction, tell a simple story and write a clear practical message.	Cumulative review and transfer

A2 · UNIT 1

A2.1

A week in my life: connect the details

AFTER THIS UNIT YOU CAN

Describe a familiar week in connected sentences, give a simple reason or contrast, ask for clarification, and write a short practical message.

THE SITUATION

An adult learner balances work, French study and daily responsibilities in Canada. The goal is to explain a real week, understand another person's schedule and keep the exchange going.

In Canada Use the schedule examples as language practice, not as current transit, clinic or workplace information. Real opening hours and service details change.

In Canada This unit is designed for split-screen study: make one short note in your notes app, close it, retrieve the pattern aloud, then reuse it with different details.

1.1 Words: habits and the shape of a week

Picture it: on Sunday evening, Awa checks her work and French-class schedule. One plan has changed, and she needs to explain why to a classmate. You already know days, times and basic present-tense verbs. Add the words that help you explain a week; before checking the English, listen and guess each from its example.

Group 1: frequency and routine

FRENCH	SAY IT	ENGLISH	IN A SENTENCE
une habitude	ün ah-bee-TÜD	a habit	La marche est une bonne habitude. Walking is a good habit.
le quotidien	luh koh-tee-DYAH(N)	everyday life; daily routine	Le quotidien est parfois chargé. Everyday life is sometimes busy.

se reposer	suh ruh-poh-ZAY	to rest	Je me repose après le travail. I rest after work.

Group 5: clarify and repair

FRENCH	SAY IT	ENGLISH	IN A SENTENCE
clarifier	klah-ree-fee-YAY	to clarify	Je veux clarifier le nouvel horaire. I want to clarify the new schedule.
préciser	pray-see-ZAY	to specify; clarify	Pouvez-vous préciser l'heure ? Can you specify the time?
autrement dit	oh-truh-mah(n) DEE	in other words	Autrement dit, le cours finit à midi. In other words, class ends at noon.
si j'ai bien compris	see zhay byah(n) kohn-pree	if I understood correctly	Si j'ai bien compris, tu es libre jeudi. If I understood correctly, you are free Thursday.
ça dépend de	sah day-pah(n) duh	it depends on	Ça dépend de mon horaire. It depends on my schedule.
en revanche	ah(n) ruh-VAHNSH	however; on the other hand	Je travaille lundi; en revanche, je suis libre mardi. I work Monday; however, I am free Tuesday.
vouloir dire	vwoh-LWAHR DEER	to mean	Qu'est-ce que tu veux dire ? What do you mean?

préparer	pray-pah-RAY	to prepare	Je prépare mes notes avant le cours. I prepare my notes before class.
confus / confuse	kohn-FÜ / kohn-FÜZ	confused; unclear	Je suis confuse au sujet de l'heure. I am confused about the time.

In Canada Use the same clear standard French across Canada. Work schedules, class schedules and service hours vary by location; the examples here are invented for practice.

1.2 Phrases: explain a real week

Try each phrase before reading its meaning. Choose one that is true for you, then change the day, time or activity so it describes your own week.

Ça dépend de mon horaire; je te confirme ce soir.	sah day-pah(n) duh moh(n) oh-REHR zhuh tuh kohn-FEERM suh swahr	It depends on my schedule; I'll confirm tonight.

1.3 Grammar: connect ideas and explain why (g23)

At A1, you learned to make clear short sentences. At A2, keep the same clear word order and connect two ideas so the listener can follow your schedule, reason or choice. A connector joins ideas; it does not change the verb form.

A. add, contrast and give a reason

Choose the relationship between the ideas

CONNECTOR	WHAT IT DOES	EXAMPLE
et	adds information	Je travaille le matin et j'étudie le soir.
mais	shows a contrast	Je suis occupé lundi, mais je suis libre mardi.
parce que	gives a reason	Je reporte le cours parce que je travaille.
donc	shows a result	Le bus est en retard, donc j'arrive plus tard.

- Say the two ideas first. Then choose the connector that shows their relationship: addition, contrast, reason or result.
- After parce que, use a subject and a verb: parce que je travaille.
- Use donc for the result: Je travaille, donc je reporte le cours.
- Avoid joining every sentence with et. A precise connector helps another person understand your point.

B. put events in an easy order

A small sequence makes a longer answer easier to follow

ORDER	EXAMPLE
first	D'abord, je vérifie mon horaire.
next	Ensuite, je planifie mes tâches.
last	Enfin, je prépare mon sac.

Notebook move: write one true sentence about your week. Close your notes and say it again with a different connector. Tomorrow, retrieve the idea first, then rebuild the French without looking.

READING 1.3

Choose the connector

Choose the connector that matches the relationship between the ideas.

1. Je travaille le matin ___ j'étudie le soir. (addition)

A parce que
B et
C donc
D mais

2. Je suis occupée lundi, ___ je suis libre mardi. (contrast)

A mais
B donc
C parce que
D d'abord

3. Je reporte le cours ___ je travaille. (reason)

A ensuite
B mais
C parce que
D donc

4. Le bus est en retard, ___ j'arrive plus tard. (result)

A d'abord
B parce que
C mais
D donc

1.4 Dialogues: explain, check, repair

Listen for the main schedule first. Then notice how the speakers ask a follow-up question and check a detail instead of pretending they understood.

A schedule that changed

Nadia and Sam compare their work and French-study weeks.

Nadia D'habitude, je révise le mardi soir, mais cette semaine j'ai un atelier.
I usually review on Tuesday evening, but this week I have a workshop.

Sam Tu as un atelier au travail ?
Do you have a workshop at work?

Nadia Non, un atelier de français. Il commence à dix-huit heures.
No, a French workshop. It starts at six p.m.

Sam Si j'ai bien compris, tu ne peux pas réviser mardi.
If I understood correctly, you can't review Tuesday.

Nadia Oui, c'est ça. Je vais réviser mercredi parce que je suis libre.
Yes, that's right. I am going to review Wednesday because I am free.

Sam Et tu prends une pause quand ?
And when do you take a break?

Nadia Je prends une pause après le travail, puis je me repose le soir.
I take a break after work, then I rest in the evening.

Clarify the meeting time

A learner checks a class schedule with a classmate.

Sam On planifie notre séance de français. Tu es libre jeudi ?
We are planning our French session. Are you free Thursday?

Julie Oui, mais je termine le travail à dix-sept heures.
Yes, but I finish work at five p.m.

Sam Je veux dire jeudi à dix-huit heures.
I mean Thursday at six p.m.

Julie Si j'ai bien compris, la séance commence à dix-huit heures ?
If I understood correctly, the session starts at six p.m.?

Sam Oui. D'abord, on révise le français; ensuite, on parle de notre semaine.
Yes. First, we review French; then we talk about our week.

Julie D'accord. Je prends des notes et je prépare une question.
Okay. I will take notes and prepare a question.

Awa

5. What information does Awa still need?

A The presentation date
B The room
C The start time
D The speaker's name

1.8 Writing: send a connected weekly message

WRITING 1.8W

Write to a classmate

TCF Canada writing Task 1 asks for a short message in the 60-120 word range. Write 60-80 French words to a classmate: describe two parts of your usual week, explain one change this week, give a reason, and suggest a time to meet. Use a greeting and a clear closing. Draft before reading the model.

Check your text:

- Write 60-80 words for this practice; the official Task 1 range is 60-120 words.
- Include the usual routine, the change and its reason.
- Use at least two connectors accurately.
- Check that each sentence has a subject and a verb.
- Close your notes and rewrite the message tomorrow from the key ideas only.

1.9 Speaking: explain your week, then adapt

SPEAKING 1.9S

Answer follow-up questions

First answer without notes for 30-45 seconds: what does a usual week look like, what is one priority, and when do you study or rest? Add one reason or contrast. Then ask Marie for one follow-up question. If needed, request one hint, try again, and ask Marie to change one day or responsibility so you must adapt the answer.

- Answer the question asked; do not recite the model.
- Use one connector to explain a reason and one to show a contrast or result.
- If you do not understand, ask for repetition or clarification in French.
- After one correction, repeat the answer with a changed day or activity.

1.10 TCF corner and checkpoint

TCF Canada includes separate listening, reading, speaking and writing tests. This unit uses original short practice tasks; it does not predict a score. For Task 1 writing, count your words and keep the message within 60-120 words.

LISTENING 1.10L

TCF listening practice

Listen once and choose the best answer.

1. When can the speaker study with the other person?

A Thursday after 15:00
B Wednesday morning
C Friday at noon
D Sunday evening

2. What does the speaker do second?

A Checks the deadline
B Finishes the presentation
C Takes a break
D Changes the schedule

3. Why is the class postponed?

A The speaker has an unexpected work issue.
B The teacher is sick.
C The room is closed.
D The speaker forgot the time.

Writing 1.8W: Write to a classmate (model)

Salut Julie,

D'habitude, je travaille du lundi au jeudi et j'étudie le français le soir. Chaque dimanche, j'organise ma semaine et je prépare une liste de tâches. Cette semaine, j'ai une présentation vendredi, donc je suis un peu débordé. Je reporte ma séance de français à mercredi parce que je suis libre après dix-huit heures. Est-ce que tu peux étudier avec moi jeudi ? Nous pouvons réviser le français et prendre une pause.

À bientôt,
Sam

Speaking 1.9S: Answer follow-up questions (model)

En général, je travaille quatre jours par semaine et j'étudie le français le soir. D'habitude, je révise après le souper, mais le mercredi je suis souvent fatigué. Je prends une pause parce que je veux être en forme. Mon objectif est de parler un peu chaque jour. Cette semaine, j'ai une journée chargée, donc je vais étudier jeudi. Le dimanche, j'organise ma semaine et je prépare mes notes.
